Fernando C. Boyd, Sr.

MARCH 7, 1888

FEBRUARY 17, 1960

Since publication of our last catalog, Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to take from our midst the hand which guided our operation for more than half a century. Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., on the morning of February 17, died as he had lived—quietly and at peace with all men.

Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., was born in Sequatchie county on March 7, 1888, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. H. Boyd. His father was the founding father of the nursery business, after moving with his family to Warren county, a few years following the birth of Fernando C. Boyd, Sr.

Mr. Boyd was married in 1904 to Miss Sara Jane Maxwell, who survives, and his widow and seven sons and two daughters are residents of McMinnville, Tennessee. All of the sons remain true to the principles laid down by their father and all are closely affiliated with the nursery business and agriculture: Henry N., Austin, F. C., Jr., and Clark Boyd—Boyd Nursery Company; Tallman Boyd—Flower City Nurseries; Robert Boyd—Globe Nurseries; Hubert Boyd, farmer. Two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Boyd Ramsey and Miss Margaret Boyd, also reside here.

Mr. Boyd was associated with his father in the nursery business until he was married in 1904 at which time a brother, J. R. Boyd, joined him in a partnership which resulted in the establishment of Forest Nursery Company. Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., was president of this firm until the partnership was dissolved in 1929. J. R. Boyd is now president of Forest Nursery Company and remains active in the business.

Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., established Boyd Nursery Company, Inc., in 1929. Starting a new enterprise at the height of the depression years was no small obligation for any man. Using the Golden Rule as a standard of business and the Holy Bible as a personal guide, Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., laid a strong foundation for a business that required the best of him from sunrise to sunset for more than four decades. Never adverse to manual labor, Mr. Boyd reared his family, provided his children with secondary and college educations, while continuing as he once put it, "to dig in the red soil of Warren county."

In 1948, after a series of heart attacks and upon orders of his physician, Mr. Boyd surrendered the leadership of Boyd Nursery Company and the responsibilities of its operation to his sons. Four sons remain active in the company today and all stock of the corporation is owned by the Boyd family.

Despite his withdrawal from active participation in the nursery business, Mr. Boyd did not completely retire from the business scene. The last 12 years of his life was devoted to the breeding of purebred Aberdeen Angus Cattle at his Westwood Angus Farms, near McMinnville. His cattle won many top honors at livestock shows and sold in breeders' sales for fancy prices throughout the area.

A man of humble character, yet with rare fortitude and determination, Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., never used strong drink nor the smoking habit. His principal devotion was to his Lord and the Lord's Church. Mr. Boyd served as an elder of Central Church of Christ of McMinnville for more than a quarter of a century and his wise counsel and energetic leadership was a major contributing factor in the growth and development of the congregation as one of the pillars of the Church of Christ Brotherhood in this section of the country. Mr. Boyd's hobbies were his business and his family and while directing one of the nation's leading nursery operations, he also maintained an active interest in the civic life of his community.

Widely known and highly respected in the American Association of Nurserymen, the Southern and Tennessee Nurserymen's Associations, Mr. Boyd was also a Scottish Rite Mason, a Shriner, past president of the McMinnville Rotary Club, honorary member of the board of directors of First National Bank, member of the board of trustees of Magness Memorial Library and the directorate of the Warren County Farm Bureau—an organization in which he was a leading organizational instrument.

Boyd Nursery Company, Inc., is a 2,000-acre reservation located southwest of McMinnville and near the incorporated county town of Morrison. It was purchased by Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., with the thought in mind that it would be a part of a nation-wide plan to make America a more beautiful and better place in which to live. His sons are cultivating the philosophy of their father in the development of the huge nursery establishment.

As a hard-working nurseryman, Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., shipped millions of plants each year for more than 40 years. Boyd plants became a by-word, not only in the continental United States, but around the globe. He specialized in plants from seeds and cuttings to be shipped to other nurserymen for cultivation into beautiful, specimen plants in every state of the Union. It is therefore reasonable to assume that beautiful plants now viewed by tourists throughout the country were started from seeds and cuttings nurtured by the hands of Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., of McMinnville, Tennessee.

Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., emphatically believed that God made man to advance the cause of Christ and to make the world a better, more beautiful place in which to live. To that cause he subscribed himself in both his business and private life. To say that Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., went about doing good is to conservatively estimate his many faithful works. Typical of his contributions was the donation of a very valuable tract of real estate in the heart of McMinnville's expanding residential district as the site of Westwood Church of Christ. His widow and all of his children are active members of this congregation of the Lord's body.

Generally known as a man who saw only the good in life and in the lives of his fellow man, Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., portrayed such a message to his family in the fading hours of his life. "I have done the best that I could on earth," he told his sons, "and I live now only for the day that I can be with my Lord."

Fernando C. Boyd, Sr., passed to peaceful sleep on the morning of February 17, 1960. Knowing his life, one can but believe that the Lord's hand was strong in Mr. Boyd's passing. A lover of nature and the beauty of mankind's handiwork, the day of Mr. Boyd's passing was the most beautiful day of the month of February, filled with bright sunshine and warm temperatures after near zero weather and snow-covered ground during most of the preceding days.

Fernando C. Boyd's life maintained a challenging standard—one which will be difficult to parallel. In his greatness, he was humble, soft-spoken, yet firm in his convictions. Above all, and throughout a productive life, he closely followed the pattern which characterized his early venture in the field of business—with the Golden Rule as a standard of business and the Holy Bible as a personal guide. His likes are not in abundance in the challenging, complicated, strife-torn world of today.

—by one who loved and respected him.
